Recounting God's Faithfulness

Dear Brethren,

When I was growing up as a child, my mother usually expressed her joy for my success by saying "come let me tote you on my back." One occasion I can still vividly picture was my graduation from college in 1996. I was then a hundred and twenty pounds. My mother welcomed me with a dance, asking me to climb on her back for her to tote me. Was that old lady really serious? Did she mean to actually carry me on her back? I think I can safely say "No". She was just expressing in simple terms how much pride my success has brought to her – a good reward for all her unflinching, sacrificial support.

As the old year comes to an end and the New Year, 2015, rolls in, we can look back, despite the Ebola Virus outbreak that brought almost everything to a standstill in Liberia, and say, like my mother, "Come let me tote you on my back." Yes, you deserve for my wife and me to express our gratitude and celebrate your invaluable support by toting you on our back. Why?

*Because of you, despite the closure of university and college campuses which served as our traditional environment for ministry, the students remained resolute to serve and kept the national office open;

*Because of you, students were able to visit quarantine centers and hospitals to distribute food and medical supplies;

*Because of you, students were able to enter Ebola Treatment Units (ETU's) to give Ebola survivors more than a hundred In Touch Messenger devices in order for them to listen to the message of Jesus Christ. So grateful to the In Touch

Ministries for providing Messenger.

*Because of you, students were able to raise mattresses, food, clothes, sac - water and cash to help survivors who would otherwise have returned to empty homes.

*Because of you, the students were able to mobilize needed resources for "Ebola kills and Jesus heals " campaign in both quarantined and other communities that exposed two hundred sixty six to the Gospel and twenty making decisions to accept Jesus as Lord, in August when Ebola victims were lying dead all around the street of Monrovia and its environs.

Water from the river passing through the filter.

*Because of you, students were able to distribute four hundred water filter buckets, to homes with poor or no access to clean drinking water (needless to say, words cannot express our deep gratitude to GAIN for the donation).

*Because of you, we know that 2015 will be another fruitful year, even more fruitful if possible than last year!

UNTIL IT IS OVER, DON'T STOP PRAYING!

*Praise God for his guidance and protection during the entire Ebola nightmare that none of the students or staff got affected.

*More than eighty percent of our support has been generated locally from those the government classified as Non-essential staff. As a result, our support has dropped drastically. Pray for this deadly virus to cease so that Liberians can again have the opportunity to support God's work through our endeavor.
